

YOU ASKED WE ACTED

2024

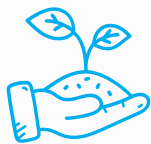

In our 2023 members survey, the SCCAN community shared their feedback on how we could support our members even better moving forward. Here is what they shared and how we took steps to implement their ideas.

You asked

Short, practical, shareable workshops and training

More information on funding

Training and information on local assemblies

We acted

We programmed training in:

- Creating 'How to' guides
- Social impact measuring
- Audio recording & editing

We created a monthly funding bulletin on our website.

We ran the Reclaim Democracy Training Series with Grassroots to Global Climate assembly training series.

We created two podcasts on the Torry People's Assembly.

You asked

Updates and de-mystifying Scottish Government policy

More time for networking and welcome new members

Communications support and training in how to reach wider audiences

How to have difficult conversations around climate

Share positive stories of normal people in Scotland doing good things

We acted

'We ran the What's Happening with Scottish Policy? Forum with Stop Climate Chaos, and have 3 more planned.

We extended the length of welcoming meetings to 1 hour to allow for extra networking time.

We organised The role of storytelling in Amplifying Marginalised Voices and 'Focussing on community needs' skillshares.

We organised workshops in 'Talking about Climate Change: Responding to defeatism and hopelessness' and 'Talking about Climate Change...without jeopardising relationships'

Our Everyday Changemakers Podcast Series showcases stories of people creating climate impact in their communities by addressing local needs and everyday issues.

Scottish Communities Climate Action Network supports community-led action in Scotland to address the climate and nature emergency and work for a just, thriving and resilient Scotland.

Membership of Scottish Communities Climate Action Network is free and open to all Scottish community groups, other organisations and networks that support community-led climate action and to individuals.
